

Travelling abroad for a business meeting or conference? Visa First can help you secure your business visa.

Q. I am travelling to a non-EU country in a month's time for a meeting. Do I need to obtain a visa?

Most European passport holders will be required to obtain a visa prior to arrival in a non-EU country. However, it depends on the country you plan to visit. Our most common business visas are for countries like China, Russia, India and Saudi Arabia. Visa First's eligibility checker will help you to determine if you require a visa for your next trip.

Four things business travellers should keep in mind ...

Apply on time!

You should give yourself plenty of time to apply.

Chinese Visa

When securing a Chinese business visa, you will be required to have your fingerprints taken at a scheduled appointment in the Chinese Embassy in Dublin.

E-visa

Several countries like India and Vietnam have introduced an e-visa option, which significantly decreases the processing time.

Invitation letter

If you are planning a trip to Russia, you must have an invitation letter. Visa First can help you secure your business invitation letter.
